Loved it	10
8. Time allowed for the session was:
Too short
About right	25
Too long	3

9. The most useful part of the training was:
	Diversity
	Talking with other libraries about issues/topics we all face
	Learning more about 2020 census and online resources
	I really enjoyed the Census talk. It was very helpful and I know more now than I did. I see how libraries can help to provide information and encourage participation
	The information and round tables
	All was good
	Awareness of diversity needs
	I thought the morning sessions were awesome! I got a lot out of them. I really got a lot out of the Census and Equity, Diversity and Inclusion training. The definitions for the equity, diversity and inclusion were great. They were relatable.
	I enjoy getting new ideas... I enjoyed the round tables - Great information Great ideas!
	Interacting with libraries, listening to questions & responses
	Census Info
	Talking about diff. btw equality & equity and why it is important to know the diff. & how they apply to diversity within the library.
	Census. I expected it to be boring but it was so interesting
	Census Info
	The diversity, equity & inclusion conversation
	Nick Nash was great. I'd love more content like this. I know the time for discussion is important, but I'd prefer more time with presenter/less discussion time
	Census Info
	Continuing education resources & websites given for furthering interests of patrons/questions to answer for them.
	Information about Census
	I enjoyed the keynote, especially the opportunities to share with one another.
	I was very impressed with Nick's presentation. It was almost like he had teaching experience.

10. If you were able to make a change to improve this training, what would it be?
	I liked it
	No sit down activity after lunch because everyone gets sleepy
	Moving around more
	You made the change for this already! Today was the most informative of any inservice I've been to (5)

	N/A
	None, it was very helpful
	Having more hands-on after lunch
	N/A
	Can't think of anything!
	All good
	No comment
	I liked the drawing materials on table. It felt rude at first to be coloring turtles, but I got over it! ☺
	I was very distracted/annoyed by people who talk through entire presentations. I think this is very rude & it makes it hard to focus. Maybe add a "no side conversations" to guidelines
	It was great!
	None
	Not crazy about this venue, but realize options are limited. Insufficient restroom facilities
	Full day is too long
	How can we make the round robin @ the beginning shorter?
11. Other training or workshops I would like to see:
	New ideas or easy programming for libraries, simple craft ideas for your library
	Great displays
	What to do when a patron goes too far or crosses the line
	Hands-on how-tos and ideas
	More opportunities to get hands-on
	Field trip to host library? Alternate inservice at...
	Guest speakers, etc - authors, community members. For Spring training - SRP info, crafts ideas, program ideas, to help with planning of upcoming program
	Reference, ILL services
	Computer technology advancements
	More hands-on demonstrations
	Honest talk about the way our district is funded Fundraising for library projects How to fund objectives without always having your hand out Volunteers: appropriate uses, how to "activate" your teen council Compassion fatigue
12. Recommendations for people to serve on an In-service planning committee?
	Keep up the good work!
	N/A
	Cecili (she never sleeps☺)
	No
	Joan Mielke-Earle (PPL), Adam Simms (BMCC)
	None
13. Additional comments:
	The hands-on craft was fun and a good idea
	Thank you for everything! *directions on how to find the room if it is in a new place

	Really liked round tables. Do more hands-on. Maybe send a questionnaire to every library to see what they would like to discuss for next year.
	☺
	Thanks to organizers & presenters
	Have door prizes at the end of service day
	None
	Best guacamole ever! *I wasn't able to attend whole training so my comments are re Census to Darci. Left after break - sorry to miss tables
	Best food ever! Good job - you guys work so hard!
	Food change of pace was great! ★★★★★
	None. Thank you to all who shared their knowledge to assist us in furthering our skills!
	1. Second year this was scheduled on a no-school day. I have important relationships with students on no school days - these meetings negatively impact my ability to serve those people. 2. Please don't assign seats during lunch. This is a long day and the lunch "break" shouldn't be a burden, let us have room to breathe.
	Great topics - I have recently tagged into State Library offerings & they are such an awesome resource.
